(By Staff Correspondent U. P.) Cairo, Egypt, March 26.-If the 700 Americans in Cairo had the election of the next president of the United States in their hands, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt would return to the White House by a practically unan-These Americans. many of whom have been drawn to Cairo Ly the presence of Mr. Roosevelt made known their presidential sentiments today in an unmistakable way at a morning reception in the garlen terrace of Shepherd's hotel. Aside from the setting the ariair was more like a White House reception than anything the Colonel has enequatered since quitting Washington.

While awaiting Mr. Roosevelt's appearance on the terrace, the crowd sang "America," which seemed to put the Colonel in a happy frame of mind. "I am not going to make a speech to you," he began, after the vigorous round of applause and cheers that greeted his appearance had subsided. "but I want to tell you how glad I am to hear that song so far from home. It's a great song at home, but to hear it over here in Africa, sung by so many loyal Americans, gives it an

The last reference was to the sentiment which the Colonel himself declared Wall street felt toward his African hunt and evoked a tumult of the line to shake his hand, there expatiated Americans were presented to Mr. Roosevelt. "I hope, Mr. Roosevelt, when you get back to America you will straighten up President Taft.

The remark might as well have been addressed to the nearby sphinx as far as eliciting a reply from the Colonel. The eleverness that he has shown an avoiding all political discussions and preventing even any little remark to escape him which might reveal his opinions makes it apparent that there will be no political utterance from him until after his return to America.

The newspaper correspondents have tried in vain to trap Mr. Roosevelt into expressing an opinon. His careful guard is taken to indicate that he is more conversant with political coulitions at home than might be supposed of a man who has been in the African wilds for a year and realizes that the entire United States is anxiously awaitind some word from him.

This university is said to be 4.000 years old and is the world's most ancient seat of learning. Only the koran is taught there. The visit to Ashar was followed by a luncheon at Abdin palace, where the Colonei was again the guest of the khedive. Ambasador Strans was also a guest. This was the first time the khedive has given a luncheon in honor of a private citizen. Tonight Consul General Iddings will give a dinner in honor of the ex-president, at which a score of prominent citizens and officials of Cairo will be present. The dinner will be followed by a confetti fiesta at the hotel, an event chiefly for the American visitors.

"For sixteen long years I have been suffering with a bad case of skin discase. While a child case. While a child there broke out a red sire in the legs just in back of my knees, caused by a tight, colcred garter. At first it seemed to be a siight effair but gradunity it waxed from bad to worse, and at last I saw I had a bad skin disease. I tried many house remedies and also many widely known doctors in dif-

to walk, and I was forced to stay indoors in the warmest weather.

"My hopes of recovery were by this time spont. Sleepless nights and restless days made life an unbrarable burden. At last I was advised to try the Cuticura Remedies and I did not need more than a trial to convince me that I was on the road of success this time. I bought two sets of the Cuticura Remedies (Cuticura Soap, Oinment and Pills) and after these were gone I was a different man entirely. The Cuticura Remedies certainly did a great deal for me, as it changed my whole career from bad to good. I am now the happiest man that there is at least one true cure for skin diseases. Leonard A. UNIQUE INVITATION TO ELKS' INSTITUTION AT GALION, MARCH 31.

bucyrus Forum: In addition to regular official invitation sent to neighboring cities for the institution of the Galion lodge of Elks, a special nothication has been prepared that is unique and artistics, the creation of the well known cartoonist and former newspaper writer, William L. Bloomer, of Gaion, one of the charter members of the new lodge but already an Elk of years standing.

The trong page of the invitation bears a vignette showing in the distance Galion "all lit up," sky rockets in air and red fire burning. Over the picture is the legend "Welcome to Our Midst." Speeding along the road is an Elk in an auto, following the guidance of a flying stork bearing in its beak a package numbered "1191." From Dr. Elk's mouth streams a ban-ner inscribed "I Must Be There on the 31st." Below the sketch are the lines:

"It's up to you. Doctor." "Mr. Stork: Hurry along, old man, Something doing."

"There will be born into the realu of Elkdom on the afternoon of the thirty-first day of March, 1910, another member to grace the great and noble family of the benevolent and protective order of Elks.

"This advent opens a home into which the wandering Elk will be weicome and the tenets of the order always foremost. "The name of the lodge is Galion and the number 1191.

"You are earnestly requested to be in attendance at the christening.

"Services will begin promptly at 1:30 p. m., followed by continuous joilification. The Galion contingent, as well as all Elks within a radius of fifty miles, are looking forward to the event with great interest. The new lodge has a charter list of seventy-seven members with a number of eligibles in prospect after the institution. The ceremonies will be under the direction of John F. Burket, district deputy for northwestern Obio, and he will be assisted by brothers from other lodges in that district. Large delegations of visitors are expected from Bucyrus, Marion Upper Sandusky, Findlay, Fostoria. Kenton and Mansfield.

I will tell you my method of feeding young chickens. I do not feed anything until 36 hours old, as durmg this time they are absorbing the yolk of the egg from which they were hatched. Nature provided food Kidneys and Backs.

Saining strength enough to run about in quest of food, and if you feed them before the yolk is completely absorbed bowel trouble is liable to follow. After the first 35 hours give them water to drink first—then feed millet seed. When they are three days old fill a pie tin with bran to which as been added fine crushed oyster shell, charcoal and about one tablespoon of beef scrap meal. Keep that before them all the time and when the chicks are four weeks old feed scratch feed. Always feed grain in litter and they will work for it. I have feed sprouted cats after three days old with the best results. Get young chicks on the ground as soon as possible. If you will follow these directions to the letter and your chicks are healthy to start with here. for the young chick while it was chicks are healthy to start wih here is no reason why you shouldn't be able to raise all that are hatched, barring acidents.

From a recent test I am satisfied there is nothing in the old idea that eggs with ridges around them would not hatch. I set ten badly shaped eggs and 9 hatched and the chicks are just as healthy as any I have. Our neighbor, Ed Hebart, made us a present of two Rhode Island pullets because we had been bragging on the Black Langshans as layers. AN EASTER SONG.

By ARTHUR J. BURDICK.

Hang not today with silent tongues: Ring out, ye steeple belis, And echo from your brazen threats In glad, triumphant, tuneful notes The jey that in us dwells. Sound on this happy Easter day, And to the throngs below you say: Hope lies not in the grave!"

Droop not your petals, blossoms fair. Your spotless leaves unfold And come this blessed Easter morn God's hely altars to adorn.

The world gave Christ the thorny crown The nails, the spear, the curse, the Come, lilies, shower your incense down In recompense today:

Song, be not silent this giad day, But lift your notes on high. Send up the sweet and fervent strain— A grateful, thankful, glad refrain. With heaven's songs to vie. Shout praises to his holy name Who from his home in glory came To bear our sorrow, sin and shame That we might nive for aye!

Hearts, be not dumb, but gratitude Pour out unto our King. He gave his all that we might live. Have we no offering to give, No sacrifice to bring? At least our homage let us pay And sincere thanks extend today

Some Foreign Easter Customs.

That angels rolled the stone away-Hope lies not in the grave!

On Easter Russian children receive presents as our children do on Christmas. On Easter Monday people go about kissing relatives, friends and acquaintances and exchanging eggs. These are sometimes very beautiful ones of glass and porcelain and are filled with sagar plums and presents. children pia called "bunching eggs." This is played with a pan filled with sand or saw dust, which is set on a table, around which the children stand, each supplied with eggs. The eggs of each player are all of one color and are unlike those of the other players. The object of the game is for each player to so place the eggs standing upright in the sand as to bring five in a row touching each other. In turn each player pulls down an egg, sometimes filling out a row for berself, at others cutting off the line of an opponent The one who first succeeds in obtaining the desired row calls out: "The raven, closugh and crow
